

Company Profile

Cleanliness and flexibility without compromise

versatile® spaces

The leading innovator of high density modular storage

Vellex modular drawer and racking systems bring flexibility and cleanability together, without compromise. Engineered for science, research and learning.

Business Overview

Versatile Spaces® redefine storage systems for the next generation of scientific and educational environments. Vellex®, our modular, high-density system, delivers intelligent, scalable solutions, replacing outdated joinery and hard-to-maintain infrastructure with a freestanding, reconfigurable platform designed to evolve with processes, and people. It's the coming together of experience and innovation that makes us unique, engineered for science, research, and learning.

Our Mission

Our mission is to empower science, research, and education through adaptable, future-ready systems that evolve with every experiment, every lesson, and every innovation.

Our ESG Framework

Building better spaces through responsible design.

Environment

Designing modular systems with recyclable, low-emission materials to reduce waste, packaging, and environmental impact.

Social

Operating ethically with transparent sourcing, fair labour, and certified partners aligned with sustainability and ESG values.

Governance

Creating safe, inclusive spaces that support STEM learning, community benefit, and compliance with education and lab safety standards.

Vellex® Modular Storage Systems

Vellex® is the core of what we do, a high-density modular drawer and racking system that brings flexibility and cleanability together, without compromise. Weve designed every drawer, every frame, every trolley, every bench with purpose. Our products aren't just functional, they're foundational, designed in-house from first principles to serve a purpose.
